Jan Christianson-Wood, from Medical Examiner's office will be out Tuesday, July 24th at 9:30 to review your file. so please have it and your case notes all organized and in my office for that time. Thanks, sorry for all the pressure put upon you , to get all this done, but it is the normal process. I know one can feel scrutinized but it is not meant to do that.

On another note, the coroner, is now thinking the baby had a fast-acting disease that may have been the cause of death. This is still not stated as the official cause though.

also, Niki Taylor and mom both spoke with coroner, re: blood on body. This blood was as a result of the autopsy, no as a result of anyone harming the child. Obviously, the funeral home did not do a good job cleaning and preparing the body for viewing. Once the coroner spoke with mom and Ms. Taylor, they seemed to calm down.
